

Dear Students,

Welcome to UW Law School and to our Civil Procedure I class!

Please read A Civil Action by Jonathan Harr before our first class meeting on September 5. This book is a great introduction to the practice of law, and particularly to key aspects of civil procedure that we will be studying this semester. We will be discussing your reactions to A Civil Action during the first few class sessions. We will also revisit sections of the book for short writing assignments throughout the semester.

I look forward to meeting you in September.

Best,

Megan McDermott

Megan McDermott

Lecturer

University of Wisconsin Law School

Office 9106

email: megan.mcdermott@wisc.edu