Summer Registration and Credits

The 12-week summer program is divided into two courses, totaling 7 credits. These 7 credits are divided as follows:

During the 3-week intersession (May 29, 2018-June 15, 2018) all students will be enrolled full-time in a course entitled "Law and Correctional Institutions," for 3 credits.

In addition, the Remington Center's summer program will run the first 9 weeks of the Law School's 10-week summer session (June 18, 2018-August 26, 2018). During this session, all students will be enrolled in a course called "Legal Assistance to Institutionalized Persons" for 4 credits.

During the summer, students will also receive a stipend of $2,500.

Specific Registration Instructions

For the 3-week intersession, students should register as follows:

Course Title and Number	Call Number
Law & Correctional Institutions Course No: Law 945, Sec. TBD	TBD 3 credits

For the 10-week summer session, students should register as follows:

Course Title and Number	Call Number
Legal Assistance to Institutionalized Persons Course No: Law 862, Sec. TBD	TBD 4 credits

NOTE: For Law 862 (10-week session), the online course schedule will say "1-7 credits." However, you should register for only 4 credits for Law 862.

These summer courses are "consent of instructor" courses. After the April 13th spring meeting, we will send a final list of accepted students to the Law School's main office for authorization in the registration system. Accepted students should be authorized to register on-line for the summer courses by April 23, 2018. If you have any trouble registering after that date, please email Remington Center staff at fjrc@law.wisc.edu. Please register for both summer courses no later than April 29th, 2018.

Fall Registration and Credits

As the “course requirements” sheet indicates, all summer students are expected to continue into the fall and spring semesters. The fall clinical courses are also “consent of instructor” courses. Because we will not have a final list of accepted students until after the April 13th meeting, we have not yet authorized students to register for fall clinical credits. We will authorize students for fall credits at the same time we authorize students for summer credits.

You should be authorized to register for fall credits by April 23, 2018. Specific registration information for each project, including course titles, numbers, and credits, is listed below.

We do not require you to pre-register at this time for your fall clinical courses. You may wish to wait so that you can speak with your supervising attorney about exactly how many credits to register for. However, you may want to register no later than mid-summer in order to be sure that you are eligible for fall financial aid. In the meantime, be assured that, as a continuing clinical student, you will be authorized to register for fall clinical credits.

In planning your fall schedule, you should assume that you will be working at least the minimum number of hours (4 hours/credit/week) specified for the clinical project you are enrolled in. During the fall, students in some projects may also be expected to participate in a weekly small group meeting during the fall. Moreover, during the fall students in the Wisconsin Innocence Project are required to take a 3-credit classroom course in addition to their clinical work.

Course title, credits, call numbers:

Note: You will be notified of the appropriate call numbers once the fall 2018 course schedule is posted.

LAIP students: You should register for Law 862 sec. TBD (LAIP) in the fall. You should register for a minimum of 6 credits spread over the fall and spring semester with 3 credits in fall and 3 credits in the spring. This balance can be adjusted in consultation with your supervising attorney.

Wisconsin Innocence Project students: In the fall semester, you should register for both Law 915, sec. TBD (Special Problems in Criminal Justice Administration: Wrongful Convictions) (3 credits) and Law 854, sec. TBD (Clinical Program Wisconsin Innocence Project) (4 credits). In the spring semester, you should register for Law 854, sec. TBD (Clinical Program Wisconsin Innocence Project) (3 credits).

Restorative Justice Project students: You should register for Law 854, sec. TBD (Clinical Program Restorative Justice Project). You should register for 3-4 clinical credits in the fall semester and 3-4 credits in the spring semester.

Family Law Project students: You should register for Law 854, sec. TBD (Clinical Program Family Law Project) in the fall. You should register for a minimum of 4-5 clinical credits in the fall semester, and 3-4 credits in the spring semester.

Oxford Project students: You should register for Law 854, sec. TBD (Clinical Program Oxford Federal Project), in the fall. You should register for as many clinical credits as you agreed with your supervising attorney for a minimum of 4 credits, with a minimum of 2 credits in fall and 2 credits in the spring.

Summer Stipends

All summer 2018 students, both residents and nonresidents, will receive an appointment as a part-time project assistant (PA) for the months of June and July, along with 7 summer session credits. Each student will receive a stipend for the PA-ship, which is considered income to the student.

Based upon the current PA salary rate, we anticipate that the total stipend for the summer will be approximately $2,500. The PA stipend will be divided into two payments. Checks will be issued in early July (for your work in June) and early August (for your work in July).

We have produced a separate information sheet on financial aid for summer clinical students. Among other things, this information sheet explains the interaction between the PA-ship and summer financial aid.

Summer Tuition and Fees

Because you will be appointed as Project Assistants for the summer session, you will receive a full remission of summer school tuition.

University segregated fees are not included in the tuition remission. Thus, you will be required to pay back segregated fees to the University. For summer 2018, the segregated fee assessment has not been set; it will likely be around $300 for the 7 credits.
